CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO STATE LAND SUITABLE FOR CULTIVATION.

Article XVII, section 3. Lands belonging to this state, which are suitable for cultivation, shall be granted only to actual settlers, and in quantities not exceeding three hundred and twenty (320) acres to each settler, under such conditions as shall be prescribed by law.

STATUTORY PROVISIONS.

Section 3495 of the Political Code provides:

Any person desiring to purchase any portion not less than the smallest legal subdivision of any of the lands mentioned in section thirty-four hundred and ninety-four, situated in any township which has been surveyed by the United States, must make an affidavit that he is a citizen of the United States, or has filed his intention to become such, a resident of this state of lawful age, that he desires to purchase such lands (describing the same by legal subdivisions) under the provisions of this title; that he has made a personal examination of each and every legal subdivision of said land, that there is no occupation of such lands adverse to any that he has, or if there is an adverse occupation the affidavit must show that the township has been sectionized three months, and that the adverse occupant (giving his name) has been in such occupation more than sixty days since the plat was filed in the United States land office; that he desires to purchase the same for his own use and benefit, and for the use or benefit of no other person or persons whomsoever, and that he has made no contract or agreement to sell the same. The affidavit must also state whether the land is or is not suitable for cultivation, and if it is, that the applicant is an actual settler thereon, and that he has not entered any portion of any lands mentioned in section thirty-four hundred and ninety-four, which, together with that now sought to be purchased, exceeds three hundred and twenty acres; but if the land is not suitable for cultivation the affidavit must further state that the applicant has not entered any portion of such lands, which, together with that now sought to be entered, exceeds six hundred and forty acres. Lands unsuitable for cultivation may be sold in quantities not exceeding six hundred and forty acres to any one person, under the restriction other than as to the actual settlement prescribed for the sale of cultivable lands. No application shall contain lands situated in more than one county. The surveyor general and register of the land office must make and enforce all necessary rules and regulations to prevent the sale of school lands suitable for cultivation to any person not an actual settler thereon; provided, that any smallest legal subdivision of school lands shall be deemed suitable for cultivation if any part not less than one half of its area will, without artificial irrigation, but with or without the clearing of timber or other growth therefrom, by the ordinary processes of tillage, produce ordinary agricultural crops in average quantity; and provided, that any contest of the applicant's right to purchase, arising from the character of the land as cultivable or otherwise, may be referred to the superior court of the proper county, as in other cases, for determination; and provided further, that no contest of the applicant's right to purchase, arising from adverse occupation, shall be maintained, except by a prior adverse occupant, who shall have filed an application to purchase the land under the provisions of this section, and no occupation of land by a person other than the applicant shall be an adverse occupation within the meaning of this section, unless such occupation is by a person who is entitled to purchase the same under the provisions hereof, and who files his application therefor within the time prescribed by section thirty-four hundred and ninety-seven of this code. If any portion of the land applied for is not open to entry, the surveyor general shall file the application for such portion as may be open to entry, eliminating from the application such land as may not be open to entry.

LAWS GOVERNING THE SALE OF SCHOOL LAND SUITABLE FOR CULTIVATION.

Chapter 208, Statutes of California, 1919, provides:

SECTION 1. The unsold portions of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of school lands not included within the exterior boundaries of national reservations, the unsold portions of the five hundred thousand acres granted to the state for school purposes, and the unsold portions of the listed lands selected of the United States in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections and losses to the school grant, which are suitable for cultivation shall be sold to actual settlers in quantities not exceeding three hundred twenty acres to any one person under the provisions of section three thousand four hundred ninety-five of the Political Code, at a price to be fixed by the state board of control and the state surveyor general, payment to be made as follows: The full purchase price of the land, or ten per cent thereof and interest to the first day of January following, at the rate of six per cent per annum on the unpaid balance of the purchase price; the unpaid balance of the purchase price shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance on the first day of each year, at which time the purchaser may pay as many one-tenths of the purchase price as he may desire; provided, that the legislature may require the payment of the unpaid balance of the purchase price within five years after the passage of an act requiring such payment.

SEC. 2. Actual settlers, within the meaning of this act, are persons who have resided in good faith on the land for a period of not less than one year, to the exclusion of any other residence or fixed place of habitation during such time.

SEC. 3. Any person who shall in good faith settle upon any land in the belief that the same was suitable for cultivation shall, in the event the surveyor general, upon inspection, determines said land to be unsuitable for cultivation, be a preferred purchaser for a period of six months from the date of such decision; provided, that in cases where the surveyor general has heretofore decided that lands settled upon were unsuitable for cultivation said settlers shall be preferred purchasers for a period of six months from the date that this act takes effect.

Section 3500 of the Political Code provides:

Any false statement contained in the affidavit provided for in section three thousand four hundred and ninety-five, defeats the right of the applicant to purchase the land, or to receive any evidence of title thereto, and, if wilfully false, subjects him also to punishment for perjury. Timber lands belonging to this state shall be sold for cash only, and the surveyor general and register of the state land office must make and enforce all necessary rules and regulations to prevent the sale of or issuance of any evidence of title to any timber lands of this state, except on payment, in cash, of the full price fixed therefor by law.

DECISIONS CONSTRUING THE FOREGOING CONSTITUTIONAL AND STATUTORY PROVISIONS.

Under section 3, article XVII of the constitution, and section 3495 of the Political Code, a claimant to purchase from the state of California a tract of its land which is suitable for cultivation, must be, at the time of filing his application, an actual settler thereon.

An actual settler upon land belonging to the state is one who establishes himself upon the land or fixes his residence upon it, to take possession for his exclusive occupancy and use, with a view to acquire title to it by purchase from the state. For that purpose, an actual entry upon land belonging to the state, followed by making improvements upon it, or building a house thereon in which to reside, and occupation of the land while doing such acts, are evidence of such a settlement as gives to the occupant, if he possesses the qualifications prescribed by law, an inchoate right to purchase the land, and operates as notice to all the world of the right.

Gavitt vs. Mohr, 68 Cal. 506.

The policy of the state is here declared (section 3, article XVII, constitution) to be against selling any lands suitable for cultivation in tracts in extent exceeding 320 acres, or to others than actual settlers. And this policy is greatly emphasized by the preceding section, which plainly declares that the holding of large tracts, uncultivated, is against the public interest, and should be discouraged by all means consistent with private rights. In view of such declarations it must be manifest that it was intended that all lands within this state should, so far as governmental action could accomplish it without violating private rights, be held in small tracts, and constitute homes for its owners. No narrow construction of the only words in the section open to construction—"suitable for cultivation"—should limit this policy. The effort should be rather to extend than to restrict, for the policy is plainly that the section should include all as far as possible.

The constitution classified all land as suitable or not suitable for cultivation. For the purposes of this section, neither the legislature nor the courts can classify them otherwise, and it must follow that whether a particular tract belongs to one class or the other must always be a question of fact.

Fulton vs. Brannan, 88 Cal. 454.

The provisions of the constitution and of the Political Code requiring actual settlement upon lands belonging to the state which are fit for cultivation are imperative; and an applicant for such land must not only state the requisite facts as to such settlement in his affidavit, but the facts as stated must be true, or he can acquire no rights under his application.

Davidson Exec., etc. vs. C. Fruit and Land Company, 78 Cal. 4.

Under the provisions of the constitution restricting grants of state lands to actual settlers, no grant can be earned by one not an actual resident on certain state lands which he seeks to purchase, but who manages the land in question by means of servants.

Mosely vs. Torrence, 71 Cal. 318.

An actual settler upon state lands, who is compelled to seek a temporary residence elsewhere for the purpose of obtaining relief for a sick member of his family, does not thereby abandon his settlement.

Greenwood vs. Decamp, 79 Cal. 1.

The fact that an applicant who testified that he was living upon swamp land suitable for cultivation removed his family therefrom temporarily, because of the ill health of a member of the family, does not show nor tend to show that he was not an actual settler upon the land.

Maddux vs. Brown, 91 Cal. 523.

The purchaser is required to be an actual settler. He must show something more than that he has eaten and slept on the place, besides having a cabin there, and that he has made some fanciful attempts at planting trees and cultivation. The section means real settlers on the land, and not occasional visitors. It does not contemplate casual acts, done, not in good faith to make a home, but simply to secure cheap land. Although if a home is actually established motives can not be further questioned.

Belcher vs. Farren, 89 Cal. 73.

The provisions of section 3 of article XVII of the constitution that "lands suitable for cultivation shall be granted only to actual settlers" speaks with reference to the condition of the land at the time of the initiation of proceedings for purchase, without reference to its condition of unsuitableness for cultivation previous to said application, or the manner in which it became suitable therefor.

Boggs vs. Ganeard, 148 Cal. 711.

We think the evidence sufficiently showed that the land was subject to settlement when the defendant entered upon it; that he entered to make a settlement thereon, and that, in the exercise of his right, he began making his improvements upon the land with a view to future occupancy and residence thereon. These acts, and the occupation of the land while engaged in performing them, gave the defendant the status of an actual settler in the sense of the law which authorized him to purchase; and as he made and filed his application to purchase while engaged in the act of settlement, the law protected him for sixty days after settlement.

Gavitt vs. Mohr, 68 Cal. 510.

The phrase "lands belonging to this state suitable for cultivation" includes all lands ready for occupation, and which by ordinary farming processes are fit for agricultural purposes.

The land in controversy is situated in Santa Cruz Mountains about six miles from the coast, and is difficult of access on account of the absence of roads. Its surface is rolling and uneven, but not steep, and its soil is of a rich nature. The greater portion of the surface is covered with brush and redwood timber, which would have to be removed before the land could be plowed. There are, however, spaces and openings aggregating less than one-half, ready for plowing. The land has a distinct value for its timber, but would be more valuable for agricultural purposes after the timber was removed. Held, that the land was suitable for cultivation within the meaning of the constitution.

Manley vs. Cunningham, 72 Cal. 236.

The language of section 3495 of the Political Code, which describes what character the land shall possess in order to make it agricultural, should be taken in its broadest sense, and be held to include crops of fruit in the term "ordinary agricultural crops," especially in view of the circumstance that a very large portion of the husbandmen of the state are engaged in tilling portions of the soil in which are growing various descriptions of fruit—a fact well known to the people and their legislative representatives who enacted the law. It will not do to say that in California apples, prunes, and grapes are not ordinary agricultural crops.

Reeves vs. Hyde, 77 Cal. 397.

The fact that school land is in most places heavily covered with redwood timber and brush; that it would not when cleared, produce ordinary agricultural crops in average quantities; and that it is more valuable for timber than for agriculture, does not render it unsuitable for cultivation within the meaning of section 3, article XVII of the constitution.

Jacobs vs. Walker, 90 Cal. 43.

The fact that school land does not produce "ordinary agricultural crops in average quantities" does not render it unsuitable for cultivation, within the meaning of section 3, article XVII of the constitution.

Albert vs. Hobler, 111 Cal. 398.

The facts, we think, show, independently of the opinion, evidence complained of, that the land is suitable for cultivation. The land is level, free from serious obstruction to plowing, the soil a rich, sandy loam. It is near Lake Tulare, but has been dry for some years; and there is evidence that the lake is steadily receding year by year. If in such a soil crops sometimes, or often, fail through drought, it can not be said, in this state, that the land is therefore unsuitable for cultivation.

Belcher vs. Farren, 89 Cal. 77.

In view of the provisions of the constitution discouraging the holding of large tracts of uncultivated and unimproved land by individuals and corporations and that land "suitable for cultivation" can not be purchased by one not a settler thereon, school land, some portion of which in each legal subdivision is suitable for cultivation, can not be purchased by one not a settler thereon; and the words "suitable for cultivation" must be held to apply to all tracts of land on which there is arable or tillable land sufficient, with the use of other lands for pasture or otherwise to furnish a permanent home for the settler.

In a contest between a settler, plaintiff, and other claimants not settlers, defendants, for the purchase of a tract of land comprising two hundred and sixty-eight and eighty hundredths acres, where the findings, with regard to each subdivision thereof, showed that there were small areas of open land clear of brush, and which may be further cleared, more or less, so as to be capable of cultivation, but that on no subdivision could more than one-half of the area be so cultivated; and with regard to the tract as a whole, showed that not more than one-third of it was suitable for cultivation, and that plaintiff was an actual bona fide settler thereon, with actual possession limited to his house and its environs—a judgment for the defendants must be reversed, with directions to render judgment for the plaintiff.

Sanford vs. Maxwell, 3 Cal. App. 242.

Land in the Colorado and Salton Desert, which is situated ninety feet below the level of the sea, and which is generally known and designated as "desert land," which can not be cultivated in any proper sense of the words "farming processes," is unsuitable for cultivation; and the possibility of the development of water by boring artesian wells in the future for artificial irrigation does not affect the unsuitableness of the land for cultivation within the meaning of the constitution.

Robinson vs. Eberhart, 148 Cal. 495.

LAW GOVERNING THE SALE OF SCHOOL LAND UNSUITABLE FOR CULTIVATION.

Chapter 207, Statutes of California, 1919, provides:

SECTION 1. The unsold portions of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of school lands not included within the exterior boundaries of national reservations, the unsold portions of the five hundred thousand acres granted to the state for school purposes, and the unsold portions of the listed lands selected of the United States in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections and losses to the school grant which are not suitable for cultivation shall be sold at public auction to citizens of the United States by the surveyor general under rules and regulations prescribed by him, payment to be made as follows: The full purchase price of the land, or ten per cent thereof and interest to the first day of January following at the rate of six per cent per annum on the unpaid balance of the purchase price, to be paid at the time of sale; the unpaid balance of the purchase price shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance on the first day of each year, at which time the purchaser may pay as many one-tenths of the purchase price as he may desire; provided, that the legislature may require the payment of the unpaid balance of the purchase price within five years after the passage of an act requiring such payment. All payments to be made to the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated.

SEC. 2. From and after the date upon which this act takes effect, the surveyor general may sell in like manner and upon like conditions as to payment and interest any of the lands heretofore reserved from sale by the provisions of section three thousand four hundred eight b of the Political Code which have not been used as bases for indemnity selections, as provided in section three thousand four hundred six a of said code, or otherwise disposed of under any law of this state; provided, however, lands which in his judgment contain growth valuable for forest-cover protection to watersheds, or are valuable for reservoir sites, shall not be sold or exchanged under the provisions of this act.

Whenever he shall deem it to the advantage of the state so to do, he may, with the concurrence of the state board of control, exchange for lands of the United States of equal area, pursuant to law, any of said reserved lands in place, and the lands so acquired in exchange may be thereafter sold in the same manner and upon like conditions as to payment and interest as hereinabove set forth. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect the right of the surveyor general to use as bases for indemnity scrip, as provided in sections three thousand four hundred six a, three thousand four hundred eight b, three thousand four hundred eight c and three thousand four hundred eight d of the Political Code, any of said reserved lands not otherwise disposed of under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3. Whenever any person shall make actual settlement, in good faith, upon any such land, with intent to purchase the same pursuant to the provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the sale of certain state lands suitable for cultivation," approved May 19, 1915, and the surveyor general shall, thereafter, upon an examination of such lands, determine it to be unsuitable for cultivation, he may, with the concurrence of the state board of control, fix a price at which such land may be sold to such actual settler, as provided in the act last named, and such actual settler shall have the right to purchase such land, at the price so fixed, at any time within a period of six months thereafter. The purchase price of all timber lands shall be paid in full at the time of sale.

SEC. 4. In any and all notices of public sale, the surveyor general shall reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

SEC. 5. When the full purchase price has been paid the purchaser shall be entitled to a patent for the land.

SEC. 6. Those parts of all acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

RULES, REGULATIONS AND INFORMATION CONCERNING THE SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

Should a citizen of the United States desire to purchase land unsuitable for cultivation pursuant to the provisions of chapter 207, Statutes of California, 1919 (see page 8, ante), he should so advise the Surveyor General at Sacramento, by letter, giving a description of the land. All persons who have made their desires to purchase land unsuitable for cultivation known to the Surveyor General will be notified by mail when the sale of the land desired is to be held.

School lands unsuitable for cultivation will be sold at public auction in tracts containing from 40 to 640 acres, there being no limit as to the number of acres one person may buy. The Surveyor General reserves the right to reject any and all bids. At the time of bidding each bidder must present an affidavit that he is a citizen of the United States, which affidavit must contain the post-office address of the affiant. Agents may bid for principals, upon submission of affidavit of citizenship of principal and power of attorney to bid for principal.

The public auction sales will be held at the county courthouse of the county in which the land is situated, at which time any vacant land will be offered for sale upon request.

At the time of the acceptance of the bid the purchaser must pay to the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated the full purchase price of the land, or 10 per cent thereof with interest on the balance at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the date of sale to the first of January following. At the date of sale all of the land sold to one person in one county and land district will be embraced in one location, the entry, or filing, fee thereof being $5.00. The purchaser must also pay the county treasurer $3.00 for a certificate of purchase, which will be issued pursuant to the provisions of section 3514 of the Political Code, upon surrender to the Surveyor General of the receipt of the county treasurer, showing payment as herein provided.

Interest on the balance of the purchase price of the land at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, is due and payable in advance on the first day of each year after the date of the purchase. The purchaser may, on the first day of each year, pay as many one-tenths of the balance of the purchase price as he may desire, thereby reducing the interest.

Certificates of purchase and all rights acquired thereunder are subject to sale by deed or assignment, executed and acknowledged before any officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments of conveyances of real property, or before the register, but patent for the land must issue in the name of the original purchaser upon payment of the full purchase price (section 3519, Political Code), subject to rights of way granted to the United States by an act of the legislature approved March 21, 1907 (chapter 461, Statutes of California, 1907) for the uses prescribed in the act of Congress approved June 17, 1902, relating to irrigation and reclamation, and reserving in the people the absolute right to fish thereupon. (Section 25, article I, constitution of California.)

Lands suitable for cultivation must be sold to actual settlers, as provided by chapter 208, Statutes of California, 1919 (see page 4, ante), by mailing to the Surveyor General at Sacramento an application to be made in accordance with the provisions of section 3495 of the Political Code. Forms for application to purchase, as actual settlers, lands suitable for cultivation under the provisions of chapter 208, Statutes of California, 1919, may be obtained upon application to the Surveyor General. Such forms after having been executed by the applicant should be returned to the Surveyor General's office, Sacramento, California, accompanied by a $5.00 filing fee. If the land is any part of a sixteenth or thirty-sixth section a $20.00 deposit is required by law in addition to the filing fee and said $20.00 will be accepted by the county treasurer as part payment for the land.

After an application has been on file in the Surveyor General's office one year, the applicant must furnish proof of actual settlement by his affidavit corroborated by two disinterested persons. The approval of the application will be governed by the provisions of section 3498 of the Political Code and chapter 208, Statutes of California, 1919.

Any person desiring to acquire school lands suitable for cultivation must be a resident of this state of lawful age and a citizen of the United States, or must have declared his intention to become a citizen, and must be an actual settler upon the land when he makes his application to the Surveyor General to purchase such land.

The character of the unsold school lands can only be determined by an examination thereof. Whether or not land is suitable for cultivation is a question of fact. The determination as to whether the land sought to be purchased is suitable for cultivation lies with the Surveyor General and the State Board of Control, as does also the fixing of the price at which the land shall be sold, which are determined by examination and appraisal after the required period of residence.

Upon the authority of Sanford vs. Maxwell, 3 Cal. 242, it has been determined for purposes of sale under chapter 208, Statutes of California, 1919, that if 70 or 80 acres of a 320-acre tract are arable or tillable, thereby being sufficient, with the use of the other lands for pasture or otherwise, to furnish a permanent support to the settler, the provisions of this law will apply and the applicant would be allowed to complete his purchase.

The State of California does not issue maps or plats showing the location of the land, but having their description their approximate location can be determined by using in conjunction with the accompanying list, county maps which can be secured from most stationery stores at a cost of about 50 cents. The Surveyor General is the only agent of the state for the sale of its school lands and it is not necessary to pay any one for information relative thereto. The school lands were all surveyed by the United States government and it may be that corners have since been obliterated, in which event it will be necessary, should one desire to have the corners located, to employ a surveyor for that purpose.

For information relative to Indian, homestead, desert and other government lands, you are respectfully referred to the United States

Land Office of the district wherein the lands are situated. The United States Land Offices are located in the following cities: Eureka, El Centro, Independence, Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Francisco, Susanville and Visalia.

For information relative to lands sold to the state for the nonpayment of state and county taxes, you are respectfully referred to the State Controller, Sacramento, California.

For information relative to plans to provide employment and rural homes for soldiers, sailors and marines, please write to Dr. Elwood Mead, University of California, Berkeley, California, and to the Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D. C.
